ICT student meetings

For the last two years, academic staff in the B.Sc. Computer Engineering and Computing Science courses have been meeting regularly with all their students through a collaborative inter-departmental effort. This has proved a useful exercise in maintaining a regular link with students, to get a general overview of their progress and to give them an opportunity to voice any concerns. Students have welcomed these meetings very positively, particularly during the pandemic, throughout which the meetings continued virtually.
