

The MSc in Tourism Development & Culture (TourDC)

The Institute for Tourism, Travel & Culture is a partner in an Erasmus Mundus two-year Master of Science in Tourism Development & Culture (TourDC) programme, funded by the EU's Erasmus+ Programme. It is very strong in international scope whilst having a strong Pan-European base in that the consortium is composed of five universities, located in Glasgow, Lisbon, Lund, Malta and Wageningen.

Very positive feedback has been garnered by the students, who highlighted the access to students, teachers and locals from a diverse cultural network, and the full exposure provided to real-time concepts in the tourism industry, while maintaining a perfect balance of both theory and practice.

This programme is contributing to "broaden the University's respectful and enriching engagement with the region and the world", as indicated in the Strategic Plan 2020-2025 \(International Outlook\).

Do you have an example of good QA practice at your unit which you would like us to share? Get in touch with us at gac@um.edu.mt